

ACADEMIC PERSONNEL QUALIFICATIONS FOR THE POST OF LECTURER AND ASSISTANT PROFESSOR

1. The qualifications required for the post of Lecturer are a doctoral degree awarded from an accredited University and evidence of the candidate's competence in university teaching and research.
2. The qualifications required for the post of Assistant Professor are the same as those required for the post of Lecturer and, in addition:
 - at least three years of autonomous university teaching or research work following the award of the doctoral title, at an accredited University or research center, and
 - Original publications in renowned international scientific journals or other publications of acknowledged merit, which augur an important contribution to the discipline/scientific area.